Clear Fire Toxin

For Wind Heat and Toxin that Yin Qiao can't handle

When cold and flu season hits most of us arm our patients with Yin Qiao San, or Lonicera and Forsythia combination, to ward off Wind Heat. Sometimes the Wind Heat becomes fierce and manifests as Fire Toxin, which is often considered to be an indication of viral activity. Our patients may quickly develop a severely sore throat, fever, cough, headache, and body aches, and when those subside end up with a phlegmy bacterial infection.

That is the well known course of a primary viral infection that leads to a secondary bacterial infection. For these cases our trusty Yin Qiao will not Clear the Fire Toxins related to viral infections and inflammation.

Our Clear Fire Toxin formula utilizes herbs that have been demonstrated to have anti-viral activity as well as anti-microbial properties.

The primary herbs in Clear Fire Toxin are:

Isatis root (ban lan gen)

Viola (zi hua di ding)

Assisted by:

Forsythia (lian qiao)

Andrographis (chuan xin lian)

The Upright Qi is supported to assist the clearing of fire toxin with the inclusion of:

Astragalus (huang qi)

Because the primary focus of this formulation is Fire Toxins, it can also be used for skin eruptions and rashes.
